FLAGS OF ALLIES FLY OVER FORTS

Detachments of Artillery Take Possession in Dardanelles

REMOVAL OF MINES

Continued Bombardment of Inner Fortifications—Monoplanes Hover Over Historic Spots.

London, March 1—Sixteen miles inside the Dardanelles, the greatest fleet ever assembled for a bombardment is smashing the defenses of Constantinople into ruins today.

A lighthouse south of Fort Kilid Bahr, on the European side, has been demolished. Hurling 1,950-pound projectiles, the mammoth dreadnaught Queen Elizabeth already has inflicted severe damage on the fort itself, one of the strongest in Eastern Europe.

Mahomet's centuries' long hold upon the Dardanelles is being slowly loosened. French monoplanes are darting over the plains of ancient Troy on reconnoitering expeditions. Fighting between landing parties and Turkish infantry is occuring within a mile of Achilles' Tomb.

London, March 1—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Athens says: The allies have disembarked detachment of artillery near the destroyed Dardanelles forts, and British and French flags are now flying over them.

"The fleet continued a bombardment of the inner forts Saturday afternoon. A powder magazine was blown up. There were numerous victims. The fleet had reached as far as the lighthouse near Fort Kil-id-Bahr. The forts on the European side have been reduced to silence. Mine-sweeping operations continue.

"There are 50,000 Turks on the European side and 15,000 on the Asiatic side."

While details are being awaited of the operations of the allied Anglo-French fleet in the Dardanelles, the matter for the moment of the most intense interest in the European war, a further statement has been made public by the Russian War Office, indicating a great battle on the left bank of the Niemen, an effort to check the German advance in Poland, and successes over the Austrians in Galicia.

There are evidences also of heavy fighting in the west, but the French and German statements are diametrically opposed. The Germans claim to have pushed the allies back to the west of the Vosges for a distance of nearly four miles. The French declare that in this region they have repulsed a German attack.

Soissons again has been bombarded by the Germans, while the French report gains of a mile and a third in trenches in the neighborhood of Beausejour.

An official dispatch from Cairo, published in London, says that the Turks have evacuated the Sinai Peninsula, between the Gulfs of Suez and Akabah, and that it is believed in Cairo that all danger of a second invasion of Egypt by the Turks is removed.

The dr ifting into the Bay of Loc. quirec, on the French side of the English Channel, of a ship's boat containing two dead seamen, leads to the belief that the British steamer Liverpool has been lost by striking a mine or from being hit by a German torpedo.

MEN'S MEETING

Hon. W. W. Warwick, assistant comptroller of the treasury, delivered an address at the men's meeting yesterday afternoon in the Westminster Building. Mr. Warwick spoke on the spiritual warfare, and said there were heroes of peace as well as in times of war. The moral battle of life against sin and temptation, he said, calls for real men.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The original first line army of 2,000,000 men, with which Austria Hungary began the war, is said to be almost nonexistent by now. These seven months have cost the monarchy four times as many men as they are willing to admit officially they have lost. Not 400,000 but 1,600,000 men killed wounded and prisoners. Of these, 200,000 of the wounded, are gradually being sent back to the front some of them, however, not having properly recovered.

Representative Asbury Lever, of South Carolina, chairman ofthe House committee on agriculture, was notified by President Wilson last night that the President would veto the agriculture appropriation bill if it contains the McCumber amendment which proposes to loan government money directly on farm land. Representative Lever also was informed that the President will veto the bill if it comes to him containing the so called Bulkley amendment, which would obligate the government to purchase $50,000,000 of land mortgage bonds, another form of government direct aid.

British and French flags are now flying from six forts in the Dardanelles, The forts razed in the terrific bombardment of Thursday and Friday have all been invested with landing parties, and formally taken over. The Turks are preparing their last defenses in the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmora. Preparations also have been made to blow up the famous Mosque of Omar. Conditions in Constantinople are growing steadily worse. There is neither bread nor grain in the city, all business is at a standstill, and the people are on the verge of revolution. The prophet's mantle and other relics and treasures have been removed to Brussa, where the Sultan's harem also has been sent for safety.

Two more confessions, similar to that of Richard Peter Stegler, the German naval reservist, have been obtained by the Department of Justice. Stegler accused Capt. Boy-Ed, naval attache of the German Embassy, of planning to send him to England as a spy under a fraudulent American passport.

The Austrian government has decided to put the entire nation on rations. Notice has been issued at Vienna forbidding all further dealings, either buying or selling, in maize rye, flour and all varieties of grain and calling upon all persons holding such supplies to make public declaration of the stocks they have in hand. When this has been ascertained the government intends to take over entire control of the stocks, and then regulate consumption. Orders will be issued stating just how much each individual may hold.

At Bangor Eng. yesterday Chancellor Lloyd-George in a public speech said there were workmen in the armament works who refused to work a full week and added that this is due mostly to strong drink, "which is doing more damage than all the German submarines put together." He said the government meant to use all its great powers to deal radically with the question.

In spite of the fact that he is enjoying the best of health, William Reid of Red Bank, N. J announced yesterday during the celebration of his seventy fifth birthday anniversary that he has dug his own grave, and the coffin, made by himself, which he intends to be used for his body is stored in an undertaking establishment at Eatontown. Reid fought in the Confederate army, deserted and then fought with the Union.

While paying tribute to Rev. Perry O. Duncan, at a farewell service at the West Lafayette Church of West Lafayette ,Ind., last night Dr. O. M. Nisely dropped dead in the pulpit. A physician gave the cause of death as neuralgia of the heart. Mr. Duncan had been transferred to the church at Waynestown, Ind.

Seized with sudden suicidal manja Mrs. Walter Young 30 years old, caped from the fifth floor of the south side Hospital Pittsburg, about 12 o'clock Saturday night, alighting in a court 50 feet below. She died of a fractured skull a short time later. Mrs. Young, member of a wealthy family of Rice's Landing, entered the hospital two weeks ago to be treated for nervous trouble.

Abbe Marcheoski, of Zembok, reports the burning of 40 women and children locked in their houses in Zembok by the Germans on their retreat. The Germans refused to trust the peasants oaths to keep silent as to the movement of the troops.

Deputy Henriques Cardoso was assassinated Saturday while entering the Democratic Club to attend a political meeting. The assassin is believed to be a Syndicatist.

Aquilla Reese Yeakle, 3135 Highland place, Cleveland Park, Washington, a real estate dealer, was found drowned yesterday morning in a bathtub in the basement of his home. Mr. Yeakle was despondent, friends say, due to financial matters.

GERMAN INVASION BEING SHATTERED

Russians on Offensive Along Line From Niemen to Vistula.

DEAL HEAVY BLOWS

Teutons Driven Back Eleven Miles in Przasnysz—Wedge Forced Into Kaiser's Centre

Petrograd, March 1—The German invasion of Poland north of the Vistula river appears to have been completely shattered. The Russians, on the offensive along the entire front from the Niemen to the Vistula are dealing tremendous blows to the forces of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg.

Official reports received here today record Russian successes in all sections. In some cases the Germans have been driven back eleven miles: In the Przasnysz region, where the troops of Duke Nicholas have driven a wedge into the German center and are advancing toward the East Prussian frontiers again, the Russians are capturing village after village.

MARTHA WASHINGTON WILL

Suit for Recovery Instituted in Supreme Court Today.

Richmond, Va., March 1—Suit for the recovery of the Martha Washington will from J. P. Morgan, of New York was instituted in the United States Supreme Court today by John G. Pollard, attorney general of Virginia, on behalf of this commonwealth

Pollard left for Washington yesterday for that purpose. The document was probated in Fairfax county in 1802, and remained in the clerk's office of that county until some time during the war between the States when it was removed by some one whose identity is unknown to the Virginia authorities. Later it came into possession of J. P. Morgan, and at his death his son fell heir to it.

Movement to recover the will was started by Fairfax Chapter Daughters of the Revolution, and they are still behind it.

It is expected that Morgan will resist the action vigorously. The nearest approach to a compromise was when he offered to place the document on exhibition at Mount Vernon, but the daughters insisted that it should be returned to the custody of Fairfax Chapter.

AN ANXIOUS NIGHT

Old Borras Was on The Rampage One Year Ago.

Today one year ago the old fable of the giant of the north emerging from caverns and blowing furious and chilling blasts from conch shells was in evidence. In the afternoon a piercing northwest wind set in, which gathered force until it assumed a velocity of sixty miles an hour. By night the wind had become so high that only persons compelled to be out left their homes. There were no intervals in the coming of the terrific blasts, but they were continuous, or one racing with its predecessor, apparently endeavoring to overtake and pass it. Conditions became alarming. Bricks were falling from chimneys branches were being twisted from trees, signs were creaking, blinds slamming and the wind shrieked as if fiendish giants were warring on helpless human beings. Sleep was almost out of the question, and many persons remained up until morning. The wind had not abated at daybreak and it blew with about the same force throughout the day. The weather was piercingly cold during the time, and the river was virtually covered with ice which extended as far down as Blackistone's Island.

Some houses were damaged by the tornado, which set in Sunday and did not materially abate until Tuesday.

RESERVE ARMY OF 400,000

Former President Roosevelt at Head of Movement.

New York, March, 1— Plans for the formation of a reserve army of 400,000 trained men to propare the nation for war were formally announced at Governors Island yesterday.

The new organization will be known as the American Legion. It will be composed of men who have seen service on land and sea for the nation as well as those whose special training as engineers, aviators, telegraphers, railroad men, cheuffeurs, etc., will make them of peculair value in any emergency that might arise.

While not specifically backed by the United States government, this practical move to put the nation in a state of preparedness is launched from Governors Island, headquarters of the Department of the East, United States Army, and has the strong indorsement of Maj. Gen Leonard Wood commanding the department. whose aide-de-camp, Capt. Gordon Johnston is one of the active organizers of the legion. The officers of the legion also will be located on Governors Island.

Heading the board of honorary adviser, the personnel of which is to be announced as soon as the charter has been obtained, will be former President Roosevelt. Other men of national prominence, among them several former Secretaries of War and Navy, former United States Senators, former governors, and college presidents will be included in the personnel.

In accepting the presidency of the honorary board of advisers Col. Roosevelt has pledged himself and his four sons to immediate membership in the legion, which involves immediate active service on the outbreak of hostilities.

Washington, Pa., March 1—A negro desperado supposed to be Charles Smith, 33 years of age; State Trooper Charles Nicholson is dying in a Pittsburg Hospital and several citizens are suffering from minor wounds, as a result of a pitched battle, following a riot Saturday on the outskirts of the new manufacturing town of Langeloth, near here the model town to which the late Jacob Langeloth, of New York left $100,000.

The trouble which resulted in the tragedy had its beginning in the beating of a woman by a drunken foreigner. Smith, the man later killed, was not concerned in the initial but later became the leader of a mob which battled the State police, who had been called.

The petition was presented to Judge R. Carter Scott, in the Circuit Court of the city of Richmond, in the name of the Commonwealth.

WAVES SAVE OIL SHIP

Break Over Vessel, Putting Out Fire, When it Seemed Beyond Control

New York, March 1—A strange shipwreck story, unreported by cable from the Azores, arrived today from Horta, Fayal, by the freighter Zaandyk. Captain Barnedsen says he learned from the skipper of the Norwegian tank steamer La Habra, which arrived at Horto on February 7, bound from Talara Bay, Peru, by way of the Panama Canal, for London, that her cargo of benzine caused an explosion aboard as she was nearing the Azores to replenish her bunkers.

La Habra was quickly ablaze from stem to stern.

The skipper expected her to be destroyed utterly before his eyes. He was elated when a giant comber broke aboard her subduing the fire almost completely. Other seas helped in the work and all hands except the chief officer and those in the vanished boats went back on their ship. They found that all charts, books and instruments of navigation had been destroyed.

WILL BLOCKADE ENEMY'S COAST

Allies Preparing For Counter Move on Kaiser's Procedures

WILL SERVE NOTICE

Phohibition to Become Effective Within Fortnight Should Germany Persist in Her Course

London, March 1.—A virtual blockade of their enemies coast will be the allies answer to Germany's submarine warfare.

This is the unanimous opinion in official circles, where it is understood that the position of the allies will formally be made public before night.

The expected statement will merely assert the right of the allies to stop all shipping to Germany and her allies, it was understood. The allies will reserve the right to put such an order into effect after having served notice upon neutrals. Unless Germany immediately abandons submarine attacks upon her merchantmen the prohibition will become effective within a fortnight.

The allies have purposely avoided decreeing an immediate blockade. It is pointed out by Government officials that while the prospective announcement is without precedent in international law, it was drafted to avoid conflict with neutral countries. Certain concessions may be made to neutral shippers that would be out of the question if the allies adopted the inflexible blockade.

EFFORTS TO BREAK LINE

Would Force Kaiser's Forces to Retire Between Aisne and Oise

Paris, March 1—Terrific efforts are being made by the French to break the German lines in the Champagne district in order to force a retirement of the Kaiser's forces between the Aisne and Oise rivers.

In the past five days at least thirty attacks have been made by the French against the German lines between Souain and Servor, north of Perthes, Baurejour, and Les Hurlus.

The German armies lying in the angle formed by the junction of the Aisne and Oise rivers will continue to be a menace to Paris until they are forced to retire.

These armies are only forty miles from Paris, and if General von Kluck could pierce the French lines with a sudden move near Soissons he could not only drive in the direction of Paris but could spit the entire French forces in two.

That the French war office regards the fighting in Champagne as being of vital importance is shown by the special pains taken to enumerate small gains.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Rev. Dr. W. R. McElroy Delivers Forceful Sermons Yesterday.

Large congregations heard Rev. Dr. W. R. McElroy, of Charlottesville, preach two very thoughtful sermons yesterday at the Second Presbyterian Church.

In the morning Dr. McElroy said many answers have been made to the question, "What is life?" He said some consider it a race, a battle; others, like Shakspeare, claim the world's a stage and all are actors. But the speaker treated life as a voyage, and vividly portrayed Paul's voyage to Rome. The speaker referred to the home as the "Fair haven" from which many young people start.

The evening subject was faith, and the text is found in Hebrews 11th chapter. Dr. McElroy said the chapter is divided into two parts. The first verse gives a definition of faith, the remainder of the chapter furnishes illustrations of faith.

Dr. McElroy is assisting the pastor Rev. Dr. Jno Lee Allison, and will preach every evening this week. His subject this evening will be "Character Castle." A large chorus choir will lead the music. Song service begins at 7:45 P. M.

Entrance to the center portion of Alexandria will be through Washington Street.

At Arlington the new road will connect with the military high way, built last year from the south end of the highway bridge to the cemetery.

The new boulevard will be an experimental road and will be constructed according to the most modern plan. It will be twenty feet wide, and there will be a border of trees, grass and flowers on each side.

GRADE CROSSING TO GO

Work To Be Started on Overhead Bridge at Telegraph Road in Fairfax County

Work will be commenced within a few days by contractors for the Southern Railway Co. and the Washington Southern Railway Co., on the elimination of one of the most dangerous grade crossings in the vicinity of Alexandria. A new overhead bridge to carry passengers and teams over the tracks of the railway companies is to be built at Telegraph road crossing, three miles west of Alexandria, in Fairfax county. The cost of the work is $50,000 and the entire cost will be borne by the two railway companies. Plans have been approved by the supervisors of Fairfax county and by the State Corporation Commission and the contract for the work has been let. At the last meeting of the board of supervisors of Fairfax county, a strip of land to be used as approaches for the new bridge was granted the company.

The action of the railway companies in making provisions for the bridge follows a long controversy between the residents of Alexandria and Fairfax counties and the railway authorities. More than eight years ago agitations against the dangerous crossing commenced and several meetings were held in this city. The railways held that the county should bear a portion of the expense in eliminating the crossing. This the country refused to do and three years ago the matter was taken before the State Corposation Commission. After several hearings in this city and Richmond a decision was handed down last spring ordering the two companies to build the overhead bridge at their own expense.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician
Dr F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.
These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.
If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.
Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel—15c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Our Complete Readiness for Spring

Divercity and variedness are the most interesting features of the new spring fashions, more so than ever before, as marked as this tendency has been in the last few years.
There is no influence or tendency to which the whole showing can be said to adhere or from which the style source seems to flow. To the contratry, the modes seem to have no one original idea as an inspiration.
Entirely new thoughts in lines and materials have been injected into the garments. And the hundreds of beautiful and varied designs we have on display give a correct interpretation of what will be worn, and indicate that the boundary lines of fashion are widely separated and have wide fields between.
New notes will be observed in color, in materials, in form of usage; in the silhouette. All garments have a new piquancy of swing and beauty of line that is fascinating in the extreme.

"THE IDES OF MARCH REMEMBER."

Julius Ceaser is said to have heard these ominous words before he repaired to the Roman Senate March 14, 44 B. C., where he later fell from stabs of assassins. There is more commotion in the world today than when the conspirators concluded the time had come to "remove" the aspiring Caesar. The ferocity displayed in the twentieth century is as marked now as ever, and there is no telling what may occur ere the ides of March, 1915, shall have given place to mellow spring sunshine.

The most powerful armies ever marshaled upon the plains are hurling death and destruction to thir fellowmen, while the cry of widows and orphans, with hunger added to their sorrows, ascends. The civilized world is, in the meantime uttering the earnest cry, "How long shall such conditions continue?"

Two weeks from now the ides of March will be once more upon us. In the langage of a great American—the mouthpiece of our revolution—Caesar had his Brutus, Charles the First his Cromwell, and—Here, too, we must stop.

We live in an era of assassinations. During the past few years fearful tragedies have occurred in nearly every capital of the civilized world. Kings, queens princesses, heirs apparent and statesmen have fallen by the hands of murderers. In these troublous times who can tell what may not be done in the name of so-called liberty?

Will the ides of the March, 1915, witness the decisive battle which will make the Teutonic or the English speaking race dominant in this world or will it be the Russian bear with the city of Constantinople as his capital?

Napoleon Bonaparte, after he had passed his zenith and his shadows were lengthening, is quoted as saying "Europe must in the future be republican or Cossack" Are we drifting towards the latter? Time only can tell'.

MODERN SCENES AT ANCIENT TROY

Fierce fighting on land and water is now in progress on the site of Troy of old. Homer has given a thrilling description of the scenes in connection with a ten year war which was conducted by the Greeks against the Trojans. Gods and goddesses were supposed to have witnessed the thrilling scenes enacted under the leadership of Agamemnon, but whether Venus or Athena are to see their favorites emerge victorious remains to be seen. It was the abduction of the beautiful Helen which brought on that elongated clash. More vital interests are involved now. The object of those who have invaded the country on this occasion is to eject the followers of Mahomet from the European continent now that they are fighting with Germany. The Greeks looked to their deities, male and female, to come to their aid; the Trojans had faith that they, too, would be favored from Mount Olympus. The followers of the prophet who, they believe made a journey to heaven upon the back of his donkey Al Borak, look to him for help in their dire extremity. The Mosque of St. Sophia, formerly a Christian temple, has long had the rfaeding of the Koran to reverberate within it. The Turks, however, are not so sure the Arab seer will come in time, and are prepared to blow up the edifice if they see its capture is inevitable.

French aeroplanes are now sailing near the tomb of Achilles, while the Moslems are evacuating the Sinai peninsula near where Moses received the Ten Commandments.

The present war has, in a measure, been conducted upon the most interesting and historic spots in the world. The Aegean Sea, over which Daedalus and his son streached their wings, is witnessing occurrences equally as wonderful as the remarkable performance attributed to this fabulous aeronaut.

RETURN OF CLARA TURNER.

Popular Actress Brings Stock Company Here for Indefinate Stay.

Alexandria amusement lovers are eager by looking forward to tonight when the Clara Turner Stock Co., opens an indefinate engagement at the Opera House. Miss Turner, is one of the most pouplar actresses that has ever visited Alexandria and her engagements here have always been successful. Her company this year is said to be greatly superior to that of former years and she has many of the latest plays among those which she will present. The company brings two solid carloads of scenery, properties and lighting effects.

The prices to be charged seem to be entirely too small for the character of plays Miss Turner presents. Orchestra seats will be 30 cents, parquette 20 cents and balcony 10 cents. Reservations can be made at Warfield's drug store.

The company will, open tonight with the "The Third Degree," which is one of Charles Klein's strongest dramas. It tells how the son of a family, wealthy and high in society marries beneath his social standing, is cast out of his home and all recognition refused his wife. He is devoted to her, and finding himself in financial straits calls upon an old friends, who is indebted to him, for a loan. His request is refused and while in his friends' room over indulgence has its inning and he falls into a stupor. The son's stepmother happened to be a former sweetheart of his friend before she married his father, and she calls at the friend's rooms in answere to a note from hom saying that he would do away with himself unless she renounced her husband and came back to him. His threat is not believed by her, and after she leaves, having given him a final answer, he takes his life. The son awakens, still under the influence of drink and in making his exit is arrested as the murderer and put through the third degree by a police captain, "who never fails to convict" in which he is compelled to admit the crime as his. Thereby hangs the tale and the unswerving devotion of a wife who believes him innocent and fights the battle for his life when his father turns against him.

BOOK LIST ADOPTED

State Board of Education Completes Work in Lengthy Secret Session

Richmond, March, 1—With every member present, except Governor Henry C. Stuart, the State Board of Education on Saturday afternoon adopted practically the entire list of textbooks that will be used in the public schools of the State for four years, commencing with today. Superintendent R. C. Stearnes presided at what was probably one of the most animated and memorable meetings of its kind ever held in the Commonwealth of Virginia.

The new list shows comparatively few changes from the preferred list tentatively agreed upon by the board last spring.

While the deadlock on the proposal of the B. F. Johnson Publishing Company to concede a reduction of 10 per cent on its offer of last spring provided the entire Johnson list should be adopted which new proposition would mean a sacrifice of $70,000 in profits was never broken, many of the Johnson books were given place in the accepted list, including the basal readers.

FOUND HANGING IN WOODS

Old Man Had To Hold Up His Feet To Strangle.

Wilmington Del., March 1—Thomas Pierce, aged 64 years, a widower, living with his maiden sister at Odessa, Del., hanged himself in a woods on the farm of Michael Keengan, a mile and a half from Odessa Friday. The body when found Saturday was frozen stiff.

In order to bring about his death the man was forced to hold up his feet, his knees resting on the ground. No reason is assigned for the deed, other than ill health.

Pierce left home without telling his sister where he was going. When he failed to return at night the sister became alarmed and neighbors formed searching parties, which kept up the hunt until late at night. It was renewed early Saturday, the body being found about noon.

One end of a rope was tied tightly about his neck, and the other end was fastened to the limb of a tree which Pierce could reach without climbing.
